

36 The trespass of the wicked man

1 The tres - pass of the wick - ed man most plain - ly
 2 He views him - self with blind con - ceit, his sin - ful -
 ▶ 3 In bed he plots his e - vil ways; he schemes through -
 4 Your stead - fast love is great, O LORD; it reach - es
 5 Your right - eous - ness is ver - y great, like moun - tains tes - ti - fies that fear of God's most ness de - nies. He speaks with e - vil ▶ out the night, as he com - mits him - heav - en high. Your faith - ful - ness is high and steep; your jus - tice is like ho - ly name is not be - fore his eyes.

 and de - ceit, no lon - ger good or wise.
 ▶ self to sin, re - ject - ing what is right.
 won - der - ful, ex - tend - ing to the sky.
 o - cean depths. Both man and beast you keep.

The trespass of the wicked man

D G D G (D) A⁷ D A D A

6 How pre - cious is your stead - fast love! What con - fi -
 7 They feast with - in your house, and drink from streams of 8 To those who know you as their God, your stead - fast 9 Let not the ruth - less foot of pride ap - proach and 10 See where these e - vil - do - ers lie, who right - eous -

D (A⁷ D) A D G D

dence it brings! Both high and low find your de - light. The source of life is ▶ love im - part; main - tain your right - eous - threat - en me, nor let the hand of ness de - spise! Thrown down are they, and

A⁷ E⁷ D A Bm (A D) G (D) A⁷ D

shel - ter in the shad - ow of your wings.
 found with you; in your light we see light.
 ▶ ness to those of pure and up - right heart.
 wick - ed - ness force me to turn and flee.
 there they stay, un - a - ble to a - rise.